Gentlemen:

707-544-9494

On February 3, 1983 we received a "Wellsite Geologists Report" on the subject well and on February 10, 1983 we received a completion report which was not on our OGCC Form 5. Since that time we have written several times for a Form 5 and status report, but to date we have had no response.

Rule 306 of the rules and regulations of the Commission provide that within thirty (30) days after the completion of any well, the owner or operator shall transmit to the Director the well completion or recompletion report and log (OGCC Form 5). Rule 305 provides that notice must be given to the Director when an operator expects to recomplete a well, abandon a well or change plans. On OGCC Form 4, we need a final P & A and cement verification. Further, Section 34-60-121 of the Colorado Revised Statutes states that any person who violates any rule of the Commission shall be subject to a penalty of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for each violation and for each day that such violation continues.

I am not interested in seeking a penalty, but merely bringing your well file up-to-date; however, if I have received no response from you within fifteen (15) days following receipt of this letter, I intend to take the matter to the Commission.
