Operator
Comment:

This inspection report (doc #702801568) was received by TEP on June 6, 2023. COGCC set the corrective action date for this item as May 30, 2023 which was before the report was even sent to / received by TEP. Therefore, this corrective action date is not possible / attainable. Site conditions around the BMPs and the outer edges of the pad remain too wet to safely work with heavy equipment. TEP will proceed with repairing the BMPs and any unstable areas as site conditions dry out. TEP anticipates that these areas will not be sufficiently dry for another 4 - 6 weeks (i.e., approximately mid-July, 2023).

It should be noted that the the exceptional amount of snow received during this past winter and the abnormal amount of snow-melt runoff experienced in this area are the primary causes for the damaged BMPs observed around the pad. Maintenance and repair of BMPs are expected after every winter season, and especially after such a severe winter and heavy runoff as were experienced this year. Once this repair work related to this corrective action has been completed, TEP will submit a FIRR documenting its closure.
