Dear Ted:

Enclosed are the invoices that are involved in the plugging of this well per instructions from the Colorado Oil & Gas Conservation Commission.

1. Colo. Well Service	833.34
2. Halliburton	1,354.15
3. Northwest Carriers	91.00
4. Dalbo, Inc.	187.50
5. Ray Jordan	200.00
Total	$2,715.99

The work was accomplished on October 5, 1976 and I have just received the Colo. Well Service invoice, the others have been on my desk for several weeks. I am sure that this will be all of the charges.

Mr. & Mrs. Strang have sent a letter to the attention of Jim McKee at the Colorado Oil & Gas Conservation Commission office in Denver and he has accepted their request. Therefore the final plugging, abandoning and surface clean up will be the responsibility of the Strang's.

I am sending a copy of the Halliburton ticket, a brief well history and a Colorado state form of the plugging procedure to Mr. McKee.

This will finalize the State requirement and they will be releasing the bond upon examination of all the submitted material.

Very truly yours,
